Testimonial

Warren Dodge is an incredibly talented business coach who we've been working with for over 6 years in many different ways! I cannot recommend him highly enough to fellow EO members. He masterfully navigated through a sensitive case of Founder's Syndrome where I felt compelled to take on even more duties yet realized that relinquishing control was actually best for everyone. He then helped me identify and develop our C-level and middle management teammates over a period of time. Warren has been leading our bi-monthly advisory meetings which functions as a Board of Advisors to guide the future trajectory of our rapid growth. He is now helping us navigate a new organizational design that leverages our strengths and all of the related change management challenges involved. Warren has also referred us key leadership talent, one of which was our Director of Talent who has impacted our culture, recruitment, onboarding and performance evaluation processes. He is also helping us finalize a retention plan to incentivize our C-level teammates to stay for the long haul. I would be happy to experience-share more details over the phone or in person with any fellow EO members about Warren's abilities. Please call or email me anytime.
